Current Expected Credit Loss (CECL) – Day 1 Impact

Currently estimating a modest reduction in Tangible Book Value

(excludes the impact of Mutual of Omaha Bank acquisition)

- Estimated Capital Impact: $50-$100 million decrease to Tangible Book Value
- Estimated Reserve Impact: $200-$300 million increase in reserves largely driven by the CECL transition rules related to the Purchased Credit Impaired (“PCI”) Loans in the Legacy Consumer Mortgage (“LCM”) portfolio
- Estimated range assumes moderate economic growth, low levels of unemployment and stable credit environment
- We continue to validate and implement CECL models and methodologies; estimates are subject to change
